Two more fun additions to the 'Crystal Maze' series, a spin-off from the very successful Channel Four television programme. Full of stimulating and lively pictures, the two stories are not for quiet, passive reading. The simply written text demands comprehension and the riddles, codes and puzzles need a definite response from the reader. This interaction can either be shared when read aloud or giggled over quietly when read alone. There are enough time zones and sunken ships to satisfy even the most demanding SF enthusiast - and what a clever brush with Key Stage 2 History!
